Let me tell you about my pet, Jersy. She is a Maine Coon Cat. It is dark brown and black in color. She is quite active and playful. She spends most of her time with me and is therefore more affectionate towards me than any of my other family member.

Jersy is extremely fond of playing while at the same time it is also quite well-behaved. Many cats run around the house breaking things. However, Jersy makes sure she does not cause any such damage. She also takes instructions. My mother serves her lunch at sharp every day. Jersy goes and sits near her feeder around the same time every day. She finishes her food and makes sure it does not spill around.

Jersy has won the heart of all my family members. She awaits my return from the school every afternoon and is delighted to see me back. I am also eager to meet her. We love and enjoy each other's company.

Growing up as a teen, I fought with my parents all the time. Back then, I wished my parents weren't from working class and we had more money to spend. One day, I decided to run away after an argument with my mom. I vowed to never come back to prove that I could live without them. I had about a couple hundred in my pocket at that time. Funny how a couple of hundred note make you feel rich as a kid.

I told my parents I went to a friend's house. By the third day, my parents were worried and lodge a police report. By the fourth day, I was home sick and my money was running short. I remembered a group of boys bullying me in front of a supermarket without anyone offering to help.

When I get back home, I realized how comfortable my life is despite not being rich. My mom had spent her days worrying about me. For the first time I noticed she has ageing lines around her eyes. I realized that she spent her youth working to feed us when she could have fulfilled her dreams. My dad started growing grey hair. His face looked beaten having to care for 3 kids.

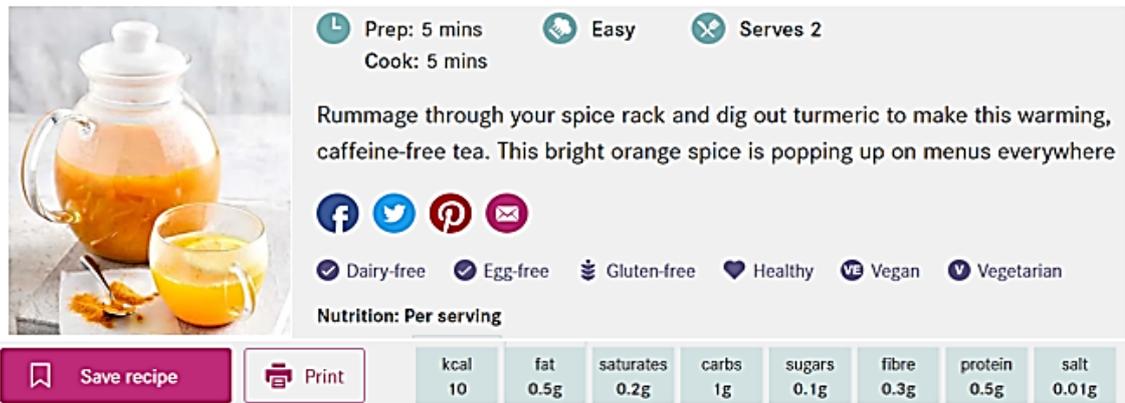

I cried not because I was homesick, I cried because I realized I was a thankless child. Being alone out there at such young age make me realize there's so much more to life.

A long time ago, there lived a Brahmin with his wife and three daughters. He loved them very much. The Brahmin worked hard and took good care of his family.

All of the sudden, the Brahmin died. His family was broken – hearted. His wife cried with grief, “Oh, God! How will I support my children?” In the meantime, the Brahmin was reborn as a beautiful golden swan.

On day, the swan wondered how his dear family was. He flew to his village and was unhappy to find his family begging for their living. “I must do something to help them!” the swan exclaimed.

When the wife saw the lovely bird, she wanted to catch it. The swan said, “My wife, I’, your husband!” Plucking one of his feathers he said, “Sell this feather and buy some food and clothes!” Then, he flew away. Every week, he came to provide for his family.

Soon, the Brahmin’s wife and their daughters were rich and lived in luxury. However, the Brahmin’s wife was greedy. She was not happy with getting just one feather. She decided to pluck all of his feathers.

So, next time the swan arrived, she pounced on it. The poor swan begged her not to pull off all his feathers but in vain. The swan cried to her, “Those feathers are useless! Because you took them by force, they have changed into ordinary feathers. You were greedy. Now you are left with nothing!” He flew away, never to return again.

Online shopping is the activity or action of buying products or services over the Internet. It means going online, landing on a seller's website, selecting something, and arranging for its delivery. The buyer either pays for the good or service online with a credit or debit card, digital money, or upon delivery. In this article, the term 'online' means 'on the Internet.' The term does not only include buying things online but also searching for them online. In other words, we may have been engaged in online shopping but did not buy anything. Online shopping has been around for about twenty-five years. It has grown in popularity significantly. Today, we can purchase nearly anything online. In fact, retail experts say that online shopping will soon overtake traditional shopping in monetary terms.

Online shopping is part of E-Commerce, which stands for Electronic Commerce. Online Shopping occurs when a customer buys through a digital platform. An example of such a platform is Bikerringshop.com, online biker ring store from Thailand. You don't have to live in this country to get one of the products this store sells. Global coverage is one of the major benefits of online shopping.

Lately I've been noticing
I say the same things he used to say
And I even find myself acting the very same way
I tap my fingers on the table
To the rhythm in my soul
And I jingle the car keys
When I'm ready to go
When I look in the mirror
He's right there in my eyes
Starin' back at me and I realize

The older I get
The more I can see
How much he loved my mother and my brother and me
And he did the best that he could
And I only hope when I have my own family
That everyday I see
A little more of my father in me

How To Use Microwave

1. Every brand and model has its own functionalities. Thus, it all starts with reading the manual. Read the user's manual to know more about your microwave. It enlists the pre-set programs, power usage, cleaning procedures, and various other useful things.
2. The next step is to plug in your microwave. Do not plug in several devices at once. Having read the user manual, you'd know what duration to set for what purpose. Set in the timer by either pressing the number buttons or turning the knob as per your microwave.
Ensure there is nothing kept on top of the microwave, especially, a hot substance.
3. Put the food in a microwave-safe utensil only. The best thing to do is to use the utensils that came along with the microwave if any. Ensure that the utensil is microwave-safe otherwise it will cause damage to the microwave and food.
4. Use a thick, domed lid made of durable plastic that is designed for use in the microwave to cover the food. This will restrict food splattering. You can purchase plastic microwave safe covers online.
5. Let the food heat. It is advisable not to open the microwave until the program has run its due course. However, use the start/stop button or pause button if you have to stop the program in between. Ensure that the food is placed in the centre of the glass ring. The centre of the ring heats up quickly.
6. Only heat the food that can be heated in the microwave. Salads and continental appetizers should be avoided. Do not heat food older than four days as it would now be home to bacteria and heating it will transmit them to the microwave resulting in contamination of fresh food.
7. Regularly clean your microwave. Do not use gel or water spray inside the microwave. Use a wet towel to clean the stains and wipe off the food remains. Use a dry cloth to wipe off all the remaining dust.

30. The text will be most beneficial for those who ....
- A. want to heat a frozen food for their meal
  - B. want to purchase an electric microwave
  - C. will use a microwave for the first time
  - D. will unbox a microwave packaging
31. What should we do after the program has run its due course?
- A. Place the food in the canter.
  - B. Clean the equipment regularly.
  - C. Transmit the food to the microwave.
  - D. Use the start/stop button or pause button.
32. We must avoid heating the food older than four days using microwave since it will ...
- A. make the fresh food contaminated with the bacteria
  - B. make the equipment unable to work accordingly
  - C. damage the microwave and the taste of food
  - D. produce the bad smell when you open it

The Fox & the Stork

The Fox one day thought of a plan to amuse himself at the expense of the Stork, at whose odd appearance he was always laughing.

"You must come and dine with me today," he said to the Stork, smiling to himself at the trick he was going to play. The Stork gladly accepted the invitation and arrived in good time and with a very good appetite.

For dinner the Fox served soup. But it was set out in a very shallow dish, and all the Stork could do was to wet the very tip of his bill. Not a drop of soup could he get. But the Fox lapped it up easily, and, to increase the disappointment of the Stork, made a great show of enjoyment.

The hungry Stork was much displeased at the trick, but he was a calm, even-tempered fellow and saw no good in flying into a rage. Instead, not long afterward, he invited the Fox to dine with him in turn. The Fox arrived promptly at the time that had been set, and the Stork served a fish dinner that had a very appetizing smell. But it was served in a tall jar with a very narrow neck. The Stork could easily get at the food with his long bill, but all the Fox could do was to lick the outside of the jar, and sniff at the delicious odor.

33. "You must come and dine with me today"
- The expression means that ....
- A. The fox started to play trick on the stork.
  - B. The fox had prepared dinner for the stork.
  - C. The fox asked the stork to prepare dinner.
  - D. The fox would like to dine in the stork's house.
34. How is the stork like?
- A. Tricky.
  - B. Smart.
  - C. Reckless.
  - D. Uncontrolled.

35. What can we learn from the story?

- A. Do not make others uncontrolled because of your behavior.
- B. Do something good to others so that you can get it in return.
- C. Do not do anything bad to others that you cannot stand on it.
- D. Do not make others hurt because it will always be remembered.

Once I lost my son in festival between hundreds of people and I couldn't find him. After searching for a couple of hours I lost all hopes of ever finding him again. The news of a boy getting lost spread like fire and everyone was helping me search for him, we went to the security and they looked all over the place but he was nowhere. It looked like he vanished into thin air. I live in Pakistan where police have no control over crime. Kids are being kidnapped too often and there is only 20% chance of ever getting them back, which is after paying hefty ransom. My son was only 6 years old at that time and it was impossible for him to get home by himself crossing two busy roads and walk for 15 minutes to home. I had my other two kids with me too who were 8 and 4 years old. They were also scared and crying loudly. I had to be strong for them.

After losing all hopes of ever finding him again when I got home the view I saw there dumbfounded me. He was there standing in front of house and waiting for me. I couldn't believe my eyes at first and I blinked several times to believe that it's not an illusion. That was the most unforgettable moment for me and I can never forget the happiness I felt at that moment. Until now I don't know how he got home but he says he got home by himself.

The following text is for questions 46 to 48.

What is a tornado?

Tornadoes are known as one of the most damaging disasters. What is the description of tornadoes? A tornado is a very powerful column of winds which spirals around a center of low atmospheric pressure. A tornado will look like a large black funnel which hangs down from a storm cloud.

The name "tornado" derives from the Latin "tonare". It means "to thunder." While the Spanish developed the word into "tornear" which means "to turn or twist". This is why a tornado is sometimes called twister or cyclone.

The winds inside a twister can spin around at speeds up to 500 miles an hour, but it usually travels at roughly 300 miles an hour. This speed twisting makes a tornado the most dangerous storm. The average tornado has a diameter of about 200 to 300 yards. The smaller tornadoes are known as satellite tornadoes. These small offspring, about 50 yards across, can be very fierce and do lots of damage.

The forming of a tornado can be very quick. Sometimes it can form in a minute or less. A tornado can travel across the ground at high speeds, then it can suddenly vanish. Most tornadoes last less than twenty minutes and travel less than 15 miles. However, the super storms sometimes travel over 100 miles before they are exhausted.

46. What is the writer's intention of writing the text?

- A. The explain about the formation of tornado.
- B. To inform that a tornado is dangerous.
- C. To give description about tornado.
- D. To make people aware of tornado.

47. According to paragraph 3, what is the maximum speed of a tornado?

- A. 50 miles per hour.
- B. 200 miles per hour.
- C. 300 miles per hour.
- D. 500 miles per hour.

48. What will probably happen if a tornado travels at roughly 300 miles an hour?

- A. A tornado will be formed in a minute.
- B. It will be the most dangerous storm.
- C. A smaller tornado will happen.
- D. It will be a satellite tornado.
